A day in the life of sillydog

Usually when the wizardz start waking up I'm on the bed, so if they're not too grumpy I might try lickin em. Lickin is my faaaavourite thing

It's important to follow the wizardz around closely in the morning because sometimes the wizard with the fluffy head dishes out free biskits. I like biskits cos they're crunchy on my mouth, Biskits are also my faaaavourite thing.

The wizardz have a loudbox they call Van. It's mad. You get in it and everything goes mental for ages, you get a windyface and too too too many smells and then it stops, you could be anywhere. Most of the time I don't really know where I am.

Some days we go to the beach.... Oh i luuuuvvvv the beach, it's so sandysalty and wetsmelly and birdychasy and otherdoggy... but when we get home I sometimes have a bath which is not my faaaavourite thing.

I am digging a hole behind the shed underneaf the ropeytreevinefing, today i got stuck in the ropeytreevine and had to wait for a wizard to come get me out.... Stuff like that happens a lot when you're a Sillydog.

When it's darktime and the wizardz have their humanfood I stare at them until they give me some.... If i'm really lucky I get a fing!!!! Fings are great, I don't normally have 'em, usually people just take fingz away from me... when i get a fing I like to take it away and look at it... then I like to show it to the wizardz... then i eat it, just in case it's food!!!!

My bed is on the floor next to the wizards but as soon as i hear the big one snoring i jump up on the bed... In the sleepworld otherplace I chase rabbits and bark a little bit, but that's a whole other story...Fluffy wizard says i snore as loud as big wizard but I don't believe her...

Lickin', bisskits, loudbox, beach, bath :(, digging, humanfood, fings, bed, sleepworld rabbits.... I fink my days are pretty good....'cept.....

I don't see great (cattilacks they say) so I get in the way a bit and wizards accidentally boot me in the gish. Dun't matter, it's pretty good being Sillydog, the only thing that ever troubles me is... What if I never find out who's a good doggy?

I am Dindins

I choose to live with the fluffy wizard, I am not 'her cat'....

Living on the streets as a young girl really didn't suit my style so I turned up at her place and refused to leave...

Now we live with another wizard... one of the bigger louder stompy variety... he's alright i guess, gives me pats and scraps...

But....Uggh he's got this bloody Sillydog she's just a stinky little hot mess who hogs all the wizardz attention and is always trying to nick my bissskitz....

I can handle the Sillydog but he's also got this absolute fucking gargoyle bitchcat.... ugghh she's soooo fat and a mean bully to boot... She is like double my size.... Literally!!!

We know because the wizardz weighed us.... I'm pleased to say I'm still the same weight as when I was a teenage kitten... I like to keep myself trim,

I'm so tiny one kg is like 3 on me...

Fluffy wizard thinks i have an eating disorder....

I don't really, I just only like certain posh foods on certain days... My favourite treat though is a mackerel loin, but only if it's hand fed to me, I don't like mackerel loin served on plates. Speaking of plates.... I will only eat from china or glass dishes and plates, plastic is for bogans like youknowwho...

Mostly I eat little treat biskits... if i have too many i will purge...

You should see what fatbitch eats.....uggghhhh disgusting big cans of slop, it's worse than dogfood!!! And it shows, you should see her FUPA, it swings when she runs and almost touches the ground... gross...
